

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates. The cable ownership cap is a crucial element of our democratic media, and it should not be weakened.

I live in an area with strong, independent community channels, and getting information from these diverse viewpoints is extremely important to me.

Loosening the rules would do a great disservice to the public good. The public should be the ones to truly own the airwaves, and power shouldn't be concentrated in the hands of a few corporations.
